GLENDALÉ DESIGNATED AS A PRESERVE AMERICA COMMUNITY

GLENDALÉ, Ariz.- The National Advisory Council for Historic Preservation recently designated Glendale as a Preserve America community.

Glendale submitted the Catlin Court Historic District Heritage Fund grant project, the city's partnerships with the Catlin Court Neighborhood Association, the Glendale Arizona Historical Society and the Historic Preservation Commission as evidence of Glendale's commitment to protect and celebrate its heritage.

Preserve America communities receive White House recognition through Laura Bush's office for protection and celebration of their heritage, use of their historic assets for economic development and community revitalization, and encouragement for people to experience and appreciate local historic resources through education and heritage tourism programs.

"The preservation and enjoyment of your historical and cultural resources celebrate an important part of our nation's heritage," states Honorary Chair of Preserve America Laura Bush. "You honor our nation's past and inspire and educate for the future."

There are approximately 400 communities in America that have Preserve America designation. Other Arizona communities that have designation are Prescott, Springerville, Williams, the White Mountain Apache Tribe, and Yuma.
